

At Debert Hospitality Centre, 'your business is our pleasure'

"Your business is our pleasure" is the motto of the Debert Hospitality Conference Centre, where each client is treated individually.

"We want to make sure you have a fabulous time while you're here, both in and outside your conference," says Leonard Dash, co-owner with Derek Taylor, of the centre.

"The response that we get from the clients who have used us in the past is the uniqueness of the facility," says Leonard.

"The conference rooms aren't your standard style conference room at any major hotel. The aesthetics are different and pleasing and the acoustics, as far as conferencing goes, is fabulous."

Then there's the food, prepared by a former executive chef at a major Halifax hotel. "Fabulous food, that's another comment we hear."

The central Debert location attracts clients from around the Maritimes. We have 74 bedrooms between both our buildings. The centre can accommodate up to 300 convention participants. Facilities include four conference rooms, two dining rooms, a lounge and an exercise room.

Wireless and hardwire internet is available throughout the centre. The lounge includes a pool table, dart boards and piano and there are outdoor patios, horseshoe pits and nearby hiking trails.

"We always say we're an affordable alternative to the traditional hotel scene," says Leonard.

"It's a family style atmosphere, which is very friendly."
